

S&D Software, Inc. Social Conduct Policy

A vibrant and positive experience is the underpinning of this community. We invite you to become a member and share your unique personal experiences with the community. Each community member's growth is forged through hard work, sharing personal experiences, both positive and negative, self-reflection, and constructive peer evaluation.

We do have some social conduct requirements that we ask all members to adhere to in an effort to maintain the best possible collaborative environment for all members.

1) Respect one another.

Treat other members as you would like to be treated yourself.

Everyone has a uniquely personal experience that offers a new and colorful point of view to almost any topic and conversation. Try to see differing points of view through the lens of others. Be kind, gracious, and patient at all times.

2) Be respectful of others privacy.

What is said in the group conversation should stay in the group.

Growth in your personal trading journey will require you to share sensitive personal information from time to time. Without a doubt, you will expect the community to respect your privacy and not share your sensitive personal information with others. The community asks for the same level of respect from you regarding handling sensitive personal information given in confidence.

3) Copyright infringement and trademark

When sharing the work of others, do not infringe on their copyrights or claim the work as your own.

Sharing the ideas and content of other community members and other traders outside the community is important to the growth and vibrancy of this community. Attribution of the content creator or author of the work is fundamental. Make sure all your posts include the proper attribution. It is the right thing to do.

4) No harassment of any kind.

Bullying, targeting, or attacking a community member is not allowed and will not be tolerated.

Again, be respectful, gracious, understanding, patient, and kind. The experience of all members will be first-class if we treat each other as we would like to be treated ourselves. We will intervene when poor behavior is spotted, and you may be asked to leave the community. Please just don't get involved in the activity, and we will all be better for it. Thank you so much for your participation.

5) No sales or spam

No solicitations or spamming of other members is allowed.

If you have a great idea you think will be of great value to the community, please don't hesitate to get in touch with the leadership of your group or this community and openly discuss the opportunity in advance. The community leadership may agree and provide additional community assets to promote your idea properly. We all grow when we openly discuss new ideas and concepts. It is essential to properly vet the proposed concepts and ideas presented in our community. We don't want anyone harmed by a concept or idea that may not have proper risk management safeguards implemented.

6) Enjoy the community, and we hope your experience is best in class. You can reach out to us at admin@sndsoftware.com with questions or suggestions on improving and making your experience even better.

Thank You, S&D Software
